What is true feminine beauty? I feel that I know it when I see it. Many women are blessed with natural beauty which has two components as far as I'm concerned: 1.) The face. 2.) The body. In the face, some women have striking looks but if they don't have beautiful souls it reverberates there. Your resting expression indicates the type of person you are. Over time, this expression becomes your permanent face which is why I can tell who looks happy in a relaxed way versus the girls with anger, sadness or a beef with the world written on their faces. They have scowls on them. Look at yourself in the mirror with no expression on your face. You can see how other people see you. If you want outer beauty, you have to take care of yourself physically and mentally. Aging is the curse for women. Beauty is a large measure of a woman's worth in society so you're gonna lose your outer beauty as you age. I've known a few over-50 girls that I would say I was physically attracted to but you have to live in the real world, know what's going on and focus on living the best life you can with what you got. There's a quote I read that said a woman needs a good retirement plan after 40. Chances are your parents have passed on, you can't rely on men simply by the law of human nature.

Every married man goes through a midlife crisis. I've known seemingly honorable men who divorced their first wives out of the blue just because they met a young girl who was interested in them, probably because they had some money and offered a more secure lifestyle than a younger guy could. Beauty to me is not skin deep. I look for someone with a beautiful soul that shows in the face, that glow of inner beauty. For vain, beautiful girls, its all about them. It doesnt matter what I say, the beauty industry has already got its hooks into you. How can it not? When I watch TV, a good percentage of the commercials are geared for womens beauty; hair coloring, beautiful hair, cosmetics, jewelry and trendy clothes. And how about all them makeover type shows? Makeovers dont do anything to change a persons soul. True beauty is being the person you were born to be with abandon. Thats what my free spirit books are about. Ive written articles about how coloring your hair tells the world youre in disharmony with yourself for doing something that fake to try to enhance your look when all it does is make you look like trailer trash. Ive said we could easily solve the worlds hunger problem by using the money we spend on hair color to feed poor kids but every night I still see those hair coloring commercials and think we live in such a lost society. Beauty to me is health, wholeness, naturally good looks and a warm heart. Im a guy, I go with what I got. I measure myself by what I do not what I look like. You have to think like this, especially as you get older. You might as well do it now. Sure its great to try to look good but theres that line of looking good as a result of the person you are by how you live and looking great because you spend an hour a day putting make-up on. Have some balance in your life. If youre looking for a guy, guys know when youve crossed the line from natural beauty to vanity. Many make allowances for a girl who is kinda young because shes just trying to learn where she fits in out in the world but if I see a 32 year old dressed to the nines, full of make-up and jewelry, I got her pegged right away, somebody too focussed on her outer look. It shows youre t
