

Annual Report of the Surgeon-General: Of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service of the United States; For the Fiscal Year 1903 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Annual Report of the Surgeon-General: Of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service of the United States; For the Fiscal Year 1903 Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury. Sir: I have the honor to submit, for transmission to Congress, in compliance with the act of July 1, 1902, the following report of transactions of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service of the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1903, the same being the thirty-second annual report of the Service, in the one hundred and fifth year of its existence, and the second annual report under its new name. I beg leave to invite attention to the fact that this report differs from previous annual reports in that no transactions are included beyond the end of the fiscal year. Heretofore it has been customary to include later transactions, particularly those relating to quarantine and epidemic work, but it is proposed to hereafter confine the annual report to the fiscal year. It will be noted also that much of the matter heretofore published in the annual report is now published in the several bulletins of the Service, making the annual report smaller in volume. The operations of the Service have been conducted under the act of Congress to increase the efficiency and change the name of the Marine-Hospital Service, approved July 1, 1902, and new regulations in accordance therewith promulgated November 29, 1902. Sanitary Convention of American Republics. In accordance with resolutions passed by the Second International Conference of the Pan-American States, held in the City of Mexico, October, 1901, to January, 1902, the first general international sanitary convention of the American Republics was held at Washington, D. C., December 2-5, 1902. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at
