

Today I Feel...: a Soldiers Drawing Journal

As a soldier, you will experience a lot of different emotions and feelings, and while you may be tempted to hold them in, you're going to learn a lot more about yourself by taking a closer look. DoodlyCouch journals are designed for drawing instead of writing - sometimes the right words just don't come, or feelings are hard to express because you're trying too hard to find words. This particular journal is designed for the soldier, as an outlet for all the emotions that go along with everything you do. Drawing is a great way to express your feelings, as well as providing a simple, creative way to unwind. You're a soldier... How do you feel today?
