

No Room in the Fridge

No Room in the Fridge was inspired by my adopted daughter Samantha. Though she was only one year of age at the time this story fell into my mind, I could see the value this message could provide not only my child, but children all over the world. Having worked with foster children and with the elderly through years of Social Work, I discovered the possible friendships that can bridge the gaps of age, ethnic origin, and all other divisions we as humans place on each other. It is my hope that this story will inspire new bridges to be built during the holiday season and beyond.
