

Memoirs of the Soul

Nan Phifer has created a method of writing memoir that helps writers, elder and young, tell their stories and reclaim their memories by showing them how to write to the center. Using writing prompts to lead writers into their memories, Memoirs of the Soul, evokes emotions about the experiences, people and places that are most important to the writer. Rather than a chronological straight line from childhood to the present, the writer's journey will spiral inward like a labyrinth, twisting and turning as their memories come to them, leading to their spiritual center. Originally published by Writers Digest in 2001, this second edition has a new forward by Hal Zina Bennett, and a larger format with lay-flat binding for ease of use while writing. Memoirs of the Soul has been Highly Recommended by Library Journal.
