

History of the Cunard Steamship Company (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from History of the Cunard Steamship Company Immediately after the contract had been fixed, the three managing partners set about the fulfilment of the conditions imposed upon them, Mr. (afterwards Sir Samuel) Cunard making London his headquarters, while Mr. George Burns remained at the seat of government in Glasgow (frequently, however, paying prolonged visits to London in connection with Admiralty and Treasury negotiations), and Mr. David Mac Iver returned to Liverpool to superintend the practical working of the steamers; but before their arrangements were finally adjusted, the Admiralty saw fit to remodel the agreement, requiring that the service should be performed by four suitable steamships instead of three, and that fixed dates of sailing should be adhered to. In consideration of these more onerous conditions, the subsidy was raised from to per annum. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
